Would Enlarge Production

The Ford automobile Company advertises that it hopes to get out $300,000 automobiles in the year August 1, 1914-August 1, 1915. That would be approximately 42 cars completed each hour of the 300 working days of the year. The Fords have been producing 90 chassis per hour and immediately after the profit-sharing plan was inaugurated, the output ran up to 105 per hour but this was reduced again to 90 per hour which is the regular schedule for running time. The Ford company has been shut down for the past ten days for repairing and invoicing but expected to resume again on full time.

R. B. Jefferson

R. B. Jefferson who was injured when struck by a Wabash train near Brunswick May 3 died at Brunswick July 23 and was brought to Keytesville and buried in the city cemetery. Mr. Jefferson was 73 years of age. His daughter, Mrs. Morg Howard who was injured at the same time died at the hospital in Moberly June 18.

Buried Someone Else

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hayes spent $250 in cold hard simoleons for the burial of their eldest "son" a week ago. The "son" was killed in the railroad yards at Sedalia. Now comes a letter from the real Robert Hayes of Pryor, Okla., notifying his parents that he is alive and well. Everett Hayes of Salisbury went to Sedalia but was not sure that it was Robert, although he consented to have the body sent to Fayette for burial. Another brother identified the body as that of Robert. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hayes thereupon gave the body fitting for burial. They now are wondering if the $250 can be recovered as they feel like that was too much money to spend on the burial of a stranger. Mr. and Mrs. Hayes are wealthy people.

The Salisbury Savings bank elected officers returning the same officers as last year except that George T. Johnson was elected a director to succeed J. D. Ingram of Nevada and that Miss Hazel Braun was promoted to one of the assistant cashiers.

Settle Bles Estate

The case of Mrs. Mary S. Liebling against O. L. Matthews et al. was decided by the U. S. supreme court against Mrs. Liebling. She was the first wife of Frederick Bles the founder of the Bles estate and as such held the majority of stock, $250,000 worth in the Bles academy building and ground, 808 acres. When deeds of trust were about to be foreclosed she transferred her stock and the academy property to Matthews et al. with a written agreement she said that they would transfer the property to her again on payment of the amount she received for the stock, etc. She sought to compel Matthews et al. to carry out the alleged contract and reconvey the land per agreement the same as if it had been a mortgage. The supreme court overruled the contention of the plaintiff.

Close Chautauqua Contract

The Commercial Club gave its official O. K. to the contract for the 1915 chautauqua and it is to be a regular thing hereafter. They also agree to take up the matter of a better road to the depot soon. The city business men will have to see about bettering the east approach to the Musselfork bridge and this is to be looked after by the club soon. The stretch of road connecting the Musselfork hill cut and fill with the bridge needs filling or leveling up and the Club is getting behind this proposition to see that it is done. The Club is arranging for a three-days fair to be held here this fall. A committee of four persons, W. Agee, Milt Bennett, S. M. White, E. W. Herring has been appointed to hustle these lines into shape for the fair.

Poor Children

Forty years ago says an old timer, the children had no cones for their ice cream, no ice cream to put in them, no ice cream sodas, no chocolate fudges, no divinity cream, no roller skates, no coaster wagon, no bicycles, no league ball, no store bat and no catchers' mitt. Instead, they amused themselves with methods which required no cash outlay. And, yet, they had just as good a time as the children of today—maybe a little better. Yes, when one looks over what the youngsters of a few years ago had to go through with to reach maturity the wonder is that so many of them lived to reach that age.

Milk Producers' Valuable

F. J. Mitchell of Livingston county says that a cow sells readily now if it gives any sign of being a milker. There was a time when the value of a cow was held to be for calf-raising. Now, it is her ability as a milk-producer that marks her capacity as a money maker and a producer of coin. T. S. George of Decatur Co., Iowa says that he does not know what they would do without their dairy cattle. The cream pays bills for the family when other products of the farm are disposed of there are not large store bills waiting to be paid.

The Case of L. L. Cantelou

The case of L. L. Cantelou, Clarendon, Texas, is similar to that of many others who have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says "after paying a doctor for several months, and using different kinds of medicine for my wife who had been troubled with severe bowel complaint for several months, I bought a 25c bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After using the second bottle she was entirely cured." For sale by all dealers.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Mahaney of Triplett are the parents of a boy born to them Wednesday, July 28.
